

Something strange is happening.

Everyone is stuck inside,
Most things are getting boring,
We have to do our work from home,
And we end up nearly snoring.

This panic buying is crazy,
What we need is a lull,
All the shelves are empty,
My shopping list is full.

Factories have been closed,
A reduction in pollution,
We want a cleaner environment,
Maybe that's the solution.

It all started in China,
We never thought it'd get here,
It's brought the Earth to a standstill,
I hope the end of it is near.
